to eliminate substandard housing and thus far has built over 200,000 homes housing over 1,000,000 people. Your business can build on the natural lessons learned from volunteering on a habitat for humanity project, relate these lessons to your current business initiatives with a customized team building retreat and reward your participants for doing the right thing!

This is an incredible opportunity to make a difference in someone's life! Imagine the feeling your team will get from having accomplished something that will bring joy to a fellow American! Spend 1-3 days of your business retreat giving back to the community and also enjoy a customized retreat program at the location of your choice.
