Services for the Corporate Retreat Market

Unique Programs

Corporate Motivation realizes the challenge of continually creating new and unique retreat programs. We produce and deliver events that are not only new and fresh but also make a positive difference in the lives of each participant. These programs offer businesses a unique opportunity to combine outdoor adventure with productive learning experiences. Services can be delivered at any one of our preferred resort properties or at the location of your choice.

Rafting the Salmon River is an excellent Workgroup Teambuilding Exercise.

Eliminate Guesswork

Corporate Motivation has a host of industry partners that enable us to seamlessly manage all aspects of your incentive or retreat program. From site selection to ticketing, our “No Worries” guarantee gives you the piece of mind that all is well taken care of.

Resort Showcase Events

Our Showcase events allow meeting planners and corporate travel decision makers the opportunity to meet and interact with a multitude of world-class resorts and other industry specialists. The intimate environment of these events allows the participants to learn of new and unique destinations and activities for your retreat.

Our Clientele

The individuals, teams and organizations we serve have one common denominator. They engage in our services to celebrate their achievements, become better at what they do and to realize their potential. Examples include intact and detached business teams, high performing sales professionals, and business leaders ranging from non-profit organizations to Fortune 500 companies.

Samples of our clientele types are:

- Small to Midsize Pharmaceutical Companies
- Independent Doctor Groups
- Meeting Planners (Representing Various Industries)

Carbon Offset Program

Corporate Motivation, Inc encourages our retreat clients to participate in our Carbon Neutral Retreat Program. We can calculate the amount of emissions that will be generated from our retreat programs, attach a per-person carbon cost, usually no more than $50 per person and invest those dollars in a Carbon Reduction project.

This program provides our clients with the peace of mind that not only are they participating in a “carbon neutral” event, but are also doing their part to assist in our global rally to improve the environment!

To learn more about our programs please contact Corporate Motivation, Inc at 330.524.3047 or email mcampana@corporatemotivation.net.

Corporate Volunteer Retreats™

Corporate Motivation, Inc has created a one and only program in the country we have entitled our “corporate volunteer retreats™”. The end result of these retreat programs are dozens of new homes for deserving families and other opportunities to create for a better life for all.

These are socially responsible retreat programs designed to give businesses a platform to give back to the community and also receive the benefit of a customized retreat. Our retreats build on the natural lessons learned from volunteering and apply those lessons to current business initiatives. This is done with facilitated meetings, adventure based team building programs, leadership development, guest speakers, health and wellness programming and a myriad of other options. These programs not only reward participants for their volunteering efforts but also improve their performance at the workplace.

Currently we have relationships with two non-profit volunteer based organizations; Habitat for Humanity and United Way. The long-term vision of the program is to offer multiple volunteer retreat options. Corporate Motivation, Inc will also accept requests from our corporate client partners if there is a specific charitable organization they wish to work with.
